DALBY MARKET REPORT - Wednesday 6th July 2022

Numbers eased again this week with most supply areas receiving rain over the weekend. All processors were operating on Similar rates to previous week's pending quality.

Feeder categories were mixed in supply and Quality and saw this reflect through in pricing. With limited feedlott buyers operating. Weaner cattle were mixed in Quality and saw this reflect in pricing.

Local competition was very limited with away restocker holding the market. Overall the market is still holding steady given the outside contributing factors putting downward pressure on the cattle market.
